Buildup of NATO Forces Is Urged

TWO TEST MODEL Skybolt missiles are shown suspended from a mock-up of B-57 jet bomber wing in photograph above. U.S. talk of canceling development of the missile has caused a stormy reaction in Britain. The British had been counting on the Skybolt to give a new lease on life to their aging bomber force and maintain Britain's independent deterrent power. With a 1,000-mile range, the solid-fueled Skybolt could be air-launched far from enemy territory to deliver its nuclear warhead. The missile has had five failures in five tests.

Crestview Board Okays Tax Rates

Tax rates set by the Columbiana County Budget Commission were accepted by the Crestview School District Board of Education at its meeting Thursday night.

Under the new rates, the total millage decreased from 23.40 to 22 mills.

New figures show an inside millage of 5.2, an outside millage of 12.8 and four mills for bond retirement, making a total of 22 mills for school purposes.

Total estimated property valuation is $13,186,857 as a result of the increase after this fall's was $11,610,000.

The board scheduled its re-organizational meeting for Jan. 10 at 8 p.m. when new officers will be elected. Current officers are Wayne Rupert, president, and Harold Gray, vice-president.

Bids for two new school buses will be received until the start of re-organization meeting, the board agreed.

Authorized was the purchase of Title 3 equipment which is partly paid for by federal government matching funds. Cost of equipment includes $271 for mathematics classes and $177 for an overhead projector.

In other action the group agreed to install a blinker light at New Waterford School. The State Highway Department will furnish the light and the controls while the board will pay for wiring, installation and furnish electricity.

A contract with School Sound System Inc. of Dunkirk N.Y., will be entered into for the installation of a public address system.

Members of the Winona-Butler Fire Department battled snow-clogged roads and frozen equipment on the pumper and tanker in fighting a blaze at the farm of Oliver Sidwell of King Road, one mile west of State Route 9, Thursday night.

A fire used to thaw a pump in a tool shed during the afternoon is believed to have smoldered, later bursting into flame and setting fire to the building which housed implements and supplies.

Mrs. Harold Sidwell discovered the fire and called the fire department at 6:10 p.m. The truck became stuck in a snow drift for a half hour, and when firemen arrived at the scene the fire was out of control. With the help of neighbors, however, they were able to save the other buildings on the property.

The tool shed and contents were a total loss. Although no estimate was made of the damage, it is covered by insurance.

To Address Economic Club Tonight

Kennedy to Deliver Speech on Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — Amid powerful new urgings for a big tax cut next year, President Kennedy travels to New York to deliver a major speech tonight which he promised would give some details of the tax program he will propose to Congress.

The President will address the Economic Club of New York at 8:30 p.m. EST and then for 30 minutes will field questions fired from the floor.

Both the speech and the question-and-answer period will be taped for broadcast later on radio and television.

The President got some strong support Thursday for a 1963 tax reduction—a plan that has run into opposition from some key congressional leaders.

The business-financed Committee for Economic Development called for a $6-billion income tax cut with the greatest benefits going to high-income bracket individuals and corporations.

In a formal policy statement the committee also urged a second and later reduction of $5 billion—if Congress and the administration can hold federal spending at present levels.

This tax package, the CED said, would lead to "higher rates of production, employment, investment and growth."

It declared that although the immediate result of the tax changes might be larger budget deficits, the long-term result would be budget surpluses because the government would bring in greater revenue from a speeded-up economy.

Here is how the first stages of the CED's proposed tax program, which it said should be retroactive to Jan. 1, 1963, would work:

All individual income tax rates would be reduced at least 8 per cent and the maximum rate would be reduced from 91 per cent to 70 per cent.

The present 52 per cent corporate income tax rate would be cut to 47 per cent.

Individuals in the lowest bracket would receive $2 billion of the $6 billion of tax benefits, the CED's economists estimated. Tax payments by corporations and higher-income individuals would be reduced from 91 per cent to 70 per cent.

The present 52 per cent corporate income tax rate would be cut to 47 per cent.

COLD THREATENS CROPS — Farmer near Homestead, Fla., sets smudge fires in effort to save crops from freezing temperatures slipping down from the superchilled north.

'Warming' Trend Brings Flurries

"When will it stop?" That was the question being asked today by many northeastern Ohio residents plagued by heavy snow for a week.

Salem residents, like many elsewhere, were "warmed" by somewhat moderating temperatures today but cast a cautious eye at the skies as the Weather Bureau forecast new snow squalls.

Today's 16 above zero reading was welcome relief from yesterday's low reading of 9 below.

The forecaster at the U.S. Weather Bureau said some areas might get from two to four inches of new snow.

At least 28 storm-connected deaths have been reported in Ohio during the long siege of snow and cold.

Squalls Thursday added from two to six inches of snow to accumulations that have snarled traffic and kept highway crews working steadily.

The State Highway Department reported all state highways open in the area late Thursday night, but the highways were slippery and snow-covered with some drifting.

In Geauga County, road crews reported at some points wind and snow closed the roads as fast as they were plowed.

A 7-mile stretch of the Lakeland Freeway, linking downtown Cleveland with Painesville, was closed late Thursday night west of Wickliffe because of drifting snow.

A 40-mile-an-hour speed limit was posted on a 120-mile leg of the Ohio Turnpike from the Sandusky-Norwalk interchange east to Pennsylvania.

Drifts as tall as an automobile were reported around Painesville, where three feet of snow fell.

"The roads are really rough," said Edward Minor, a deputy sergeant in Lake County. "You can't go any faster than 15 miles an hour."

Cold Ruining Citrus Fruits

Florida Hit Hard By Winter Weather

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Harvest hands abandoned winter-killed Florida vegetable farms and streamed into the citrus groves today in a frantic effort to salvage something from the state's worst freeze since 1889.

For fruit growers, paradoxically, a prospect of rising temperatures became a threat now that cold weather has frozen their oranges and grapefruit. Their hope lay in a quick harvest of some of the citrus to convert to juice before relaxation of the cold wave deteriorated the frozen fruit.

Temperatures were expected to go as low as 17 degrees today, with warming forecast tonight.

The Florida Citrus Commission scheduled a meeting to assess damage and consider regulations on use of frost-nipped fruit. State Agriculture Commissioner Doyle E. Conner said ice had formed in 75 to 100 per cent of citrus in Florida except at Fort Pierce, Stuart and the lower East Coast.

Gov. Farris Bryant planned a flight to Lakeland to look into the citrus damage situation.

Bryant told a Boca Raton meeting of travel agents Thursday night: "It looks as if the vegetable crop is wiped out for now."

Florida's rich soil and normally warm sunshine can produce another vegetable crop in about six weeks.

Florida Citrus Mutual, big growers cooperative, estimated that despite smudge fires, machines to stir up the air to prevent frost and other efforts to save the citrus crop—which is central Florida's economic mainstay—more fruit was frozen than in 1957-58. That year, 30 million

McNamara Tells Group U.S. Will Cooperate

Says Organization Should Build Strong Nuclear Deterrent

PARIS (AP)—U.S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara told the North Atlantic Treaty Organization today it must build up its conventional forces to give the West a variety of responses to any Communist aggression.

In a 45-minute speech to NATO ministers and military chiefs, McNamara also underlined the willingness of the United States to help in the organization of a multinational European nuclear deterrent.

Some American experts believe the most effective arrangement of this type would be carried at sea. Ships armed with powerful nuclear rockets would provide this striking power.

Gen. Lauris Norstad, the retiring NATO commander, also underscored the need to build up the conventional strength of the alliance. In a farewell address, Norstad reviewed the progress the alliance has made and outlined the problems it might face in the future.

Private comment before the session showed the depth of emotion and resentment aroused by the uncoincided wish of the United States that Britain and France quit the nuclear league.

President Kennedy's administration regards the scattering of nuclear weapon power among national forces as a world danger and is advocating a combined NATO nuclear force as a war deterrent.

West Germany was backing the United States since postwar treaties and the memories of Germany's adversaries in two world wars bar her from having nuclear weapons.

British sensitivities have been rubbed raw by U.S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara's proposal to junk the Skybolt, the air-launched American missile on which Britain pinned plans to keep herself an independent nuclear power.

But the London Daily Mail said British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan has agreed to give up the Skybolt and to accept McNamara's offer of Polaris missiles instead. The Mail said a $700-million crash program would be launched in British shipyards to build a fleet of nuclear submarines for the American missiles. Britain will supply the warheads, as she planned to do for the Skybolt.

Completion of development of the Skybolt, President Kennedy has estimated, would cost at least $2 billion more. The United States, after five failures in firing tests and nearly $500 million spent on the missile, was reported to have offered to turn the project over to Britain for completion.

Britain had planned to buy about 100 of the Skybolts at a cost of possibly $200 million. The Skybolt, which theoretically could be launched by a plane standing off 1,000 miles from its target, was designed to prolong the life of the present generation of subsonic bombers into the 1970s.

Police Investigate Two-Car Accident

Cars operated by Clifton W. McKinley, 42, of RD 2, Salem, and Cecil Scullion, 60, of 712 W. State St. were slightly damaged in an accident on Newgarden Ave. at the intersection of Jones Drive shortly after 4 p.m. Thursday.

The Scullion vehicle which had been going east, made a turn northeast, then was struck from behind by the McKinley car, police said. McKinley, going southwest attempted to avoid hitting the other car, applied brakes but skidded into the first car.

Traffic Offender Passes Judge's Traffic Law Test

CINCINNATI (AP) — Stanley Shafer's week of tests is over.

The 20-year-old University of Cincinnati student had to take two exams at school Wednesday, and Thursday he came before Traffic Court Judge Robert V. Wood for another test.

Shafer was convicted Tuesday of driving 37 miles an hour in a 25-mile-an-hour zone. Judge Wood gave him a copy of the traffic code and told him to come back Thursday for an examination.

He did. The judge asked him four questions:

1. What is the legal speed limit inside the city if it is not posted? Shafer gave the correct answer—25 m.p.h.

2. What are the proper hand signals? Shafer showed him — up for right turn, horizontal for left turn and down for slow or stop.

3. What rules govern procedure at an intersection with a flashing amber light? Shafer was right with "proceed with caution and with 'caution' means 10 miles an hour."

4. Who has the right of way at a four-way stop sign? It's the vehicle on the right, but Shafer said it was the one on the left.

Judge Wood said 75 per cent was a passing grade and fined the student costs, remitted.

Peter Stuyvesant was known as the "One-legged Governor."

City Manager Virgil Barnett said the closing of the schools will ease the drain on the town's dwindling water supply by about one-third. This town of 5,034 has had water difficulties for several weeks since its well field failed.

Corporate Image

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—What is a "corporate image" to you? Lately many corporations have been worrying out loud about their public image—which, as I gather, is pretty much like looking at yourself in a crazy mirror in an amusement park and hoping that passers-by won't think the reflection is the real you.

Anyway, more and more corporations seem to be spending more and more money trying to improve their image.

It is my opinion that one's image of a big and complex corporation is built up from fantasies early in life, or as the result of confused collisions with reality as one grows older. The individual's mental picture of a large business firm may be widely different from that held by those who run it.

During bout with insomnia the other night, I fell to thinking of the problem of "corporate images." Here are a few that loomed before a dozing brain—and I don't think the corporation will mind some gentle spoofing:

Du Bont—A kindly dentist fixed a nylon tooth in my mouth and then said, beaming, "Now you can eat all the plastic corn on the cob you want. Better living through chemistry."

American Telephone & Tele—"Yes, son, we are always glad to have you call us long distance, but this time I simply can't afford to send you the money," and an operator all alone at a huge switchboard, saying, "Please get it right this time. The number you want has been changed to 365-049-657-102-tuh-ree, tuh-ree, nigh-on."

General Electric—He wears a picture of Thomas Edison in his lapel, and as you give him a burned out light bulb he hands you a new one and observes, "Progress is our most important product."

General Motors—A tall, well-dressed man gets out of his large long car to remove compact caught in his bumper.

The offices will remain open the Saturday mornings before the holidays and reopen on the following Wednesdays.

Mrs. Olive Davis was named chairman of the Mothers' March on Polio.

Hundreds of county volunteers will take part in the 25th annual fund campaign Jan. 2-31.

March of dimes contributions support a wide-ranging research program to find causes and preventives for birth defects, arthritis and polio.

CINCINNATI (AP)—Police held Jesse Bell Pope, 36, and Ben Ray, 50, for questioning today about the fatal stabbing of Mrs. Maudie Daniels, 63. Officers said Mrs. Daniels apparently was slashed Thursday night when she tried to break up a scuffle between the Pope woman and Ray.

Spend, Spend, Never Save, Save

Everybody wants a tax cut, except a handful of fiscal sports like Virginia's Sen. Byrd and Rep. Wilbur Mills of Arkansas—the realist who presides over the House Ways and Means Committee.

Businessmen want it, business-boomers want it, vote-seeking politicians want it, little taxpayers, medium taxpayers and big taxpayers want it. To hear them tell it, a tax cut would be the greatest thing to hit the country since the electric belt, Coueism and the elixir that made the old feel young until their next birthday.

They may be right. They probably are. A tax cut would be a shot in the arm. It would make the patient feel lively and by the time the effect had worn off the patient might have forgotten why he was supposed to be sick.

That is Rep. Mills' main reason for being against it. He thinks the government economists who have been pushing it are quacks who want an excuse to peddle their nostrums. Their arithmetic is phony, he believes. He may be right too.

BUT THERE is a moral reason for being a spoilsport about the kind of tax cut the nostrum peddlers have in mind even if their arithmetic checked out.

It is the bad faith of people who holler for a tax cut and keep their mouths buttoned up about a spending cut to go with it.

Unless they are willing to pass up the gravy they shouldn't haggle over the check—and they aren't going to pass up the gravy.

Don't Call Us, We'll Call You

If most of us had guessed about it we would have exorcised our ignorance by guessing there already was a direct telephone connection between the White House and the Kremlin.

The U.S. proposal that such a line be set up as a precaution gives us the jitters. It means that all this time touch communications have been going on with the parties no better fixed than the rest of us would be trying to reach Premier Khrushchev from a pay telephone.

Now that we know how far the executive heads of the two nuclear powers really have been all this time, we can only wonder whether President Kennedy would find it equally difficult to get Prime Minister Macmillan, or President de Gaulle in the middle of the night.

Circumstantial Evidence

United States Steel Corp., probably reflecting the feelings of other producers here, has aimed a poke at steel producers in West Germany, Great Britain and Belgium-Luxembourg.

It accuses them in a complaint to the commissioner of customs in Washington of "dumping" steel pipe in the United States, to the detriment of pipe made by National Tube Division of U.S. Steel.

The bill of complaint makes interesting reading.

It points out, among other things, that welded standard steel pipe made abroad takes about 20 per cent of the total market in this country and that this began during the steel strike of 1959. That strike, inci-

Salem's post office clerks never had it so good. In fact, they've never looked so good.

Sporting new dress jackets, white shirts and maroon ties, the clerks are getting so many compliments that they are all smiles, despite the Christmas mailing rush.

It has been a good year, all-around. The postal crew occupied their new building in May, got a pay increase in October and their clothing allowance in December.

Maybe after the postage rates go up in January, the U.S. Post Office Department will see fit to authorize jackets for all 11 carriers at the Salem office. The general public likes the "new look."

Letter From Max

By Martin Miller

Your remarks the other day about how man is acquiring knowledge so fast that eventually there won't be any mysteries left reminds me of an old story that goes like this:

Father: "Son, only fools are positive, wise men hesitate."

Son: "Are you sure?"

Father: "Yes my boy, positive."

It has been said recently that scientific knowledge doubles every 10 years and the more that is discovered the more unsolved problems there are.

As for your brag about the progress in understanding human behavior, don't forget they still put rubber mats under cuspidors and erasers on pencils.

Ten will bet you 20 that Phi Beta Kappa, the college honor society, won't even consider any action against that lady who posed for a newspaper picture smoking a cigar while driving her husband's truck.

The lady chauffeur of our house is singing this parody of a song popular at this season: "I'm dreaming of a green Christmas."

The death of Kirsten Flagstad of Norway, noted Metropolitan Opera soprano of years gone by, recalled the kidding I took for years because once I went to sleep in the balcony when she and Lawrence Melchior

Federal taxes are high for the same reason other taxes are high and getting higher—because people vote for spenders, not savers.

Politicians know this. They know there is no future in saving money. They know savers are like the nice guys in baseball they are the first to be sent to the showers. They never win.

Politicians learned at their preceptor's knee to spend and spend and elect and elect. Generations ago politicians realized their firmest grip on the future was to vote for first class survival.

If they have read the historic background of what they're doing, American politicians know this equation between spending the people's money and lining up the people's vote caused early critics of representative democracy to warn it would be America's downfall.

POLITICIANS are only working out their historic destiny, if they're smart enough to be cynical about what they're doing. If not, the effect is just the same.

There probably will be a tax cut because leading politicians are agitating for it, and they know the best bait to catch the most fish.

But if it's done without a corresponding cut in a profligate rate of spending a tax cut will be a mockery of responsible government.

It will be, in fact, proof that those who warned against popular government's built-in device for consuming its own wealth knew what they were talking about.

A direct telephone line is only one of a group of proposals for building confidence between the United States and the Soviet Union. All the proposals start with the same supposition—that the first step in building confidence is to avert misunderstanding.

For example, if the Soviet Union had been working inside the spirit of confidence, it would have told the United States in advance about the missiles and bombers and troops it was going to send to Cuba, explaining that they were for defensive use only and the United States would have given the whole thing its blessing—like fun it would.

But the direct telephone line is a fine idea. It was a fine idea only a few weeks ago when it was the thriller-diller item in a spanking serial story in the Saturday Evening Post.

dently, keeps bobbing up as the starting place for a growing list of economic upheavals. Surely it must have been one of the greatest bloopers of the 20th century.

Even more interesting is the argument that welded pipe made abroad and laid down at docks in the United States for less than it cost here represents dumping. The basis is that the price charged for the same product in the West German market is appreciably more than the price charged in the United States.

This, says the U.S. Steel complaint, is contrary to anti-dumping laws, which define dumping as getting rid of surplus production abroad for less than the cost of production. There's that ominous phrase again—"cost of production."

U.S. producers of steel fought a hostile inquiry headed by Sen. Kefauver into their own "cost of production." And what if it turns out that West German steel pipe is being sold here at a profit and the price is higher in West Germany only because it is being sold there at an even greater profit?

What would happen then to the supposition that pipe is being dumped here because the price is low? In fact, what is happening to the supposition that the great benefit of international trade is competitive prices?

Don't try to fall back on your friends too often or you'll miss some of them.

The freezing point is 32 and the squeezing point two in the shade.

sang the famous death scene in Wagner's "Tristan and Isolde."

With all the concern these days over juvenile delinquency, you can take what comfort you can get from a recent magazine article which said that in 1858 in New York City one teen-ager was arrested for each 127 residents and in 1958 the ratio had dropped to one teen-ager for each 528 residents, making a quarter as many arrested 100 years later. The same article tells of a juvenile gang fight in 1857 which grew into a riot causing six deaths and wounding 100 before troops brought peace.

The Carnegie Institution report that life on earth in the form of algae is two billion years older than previously believed didn't make us feel any younger. All this time we were happily rocking along thinking life was only one billion years old instead of three billion. But then, what's a couple billion more or less these days?

In view of the snow snafu, it might be well to give serious consideration to the use of rotary plows and whatever other equipment is used for snow removal in more northerly and mountainous sections of the United States where our worst problems would be considered insignificant.

Faithfully yours,

Mutual Restraint Needed In Labor Disputes

By DAVID LAWRENCE

"Human welfare"—the boasted slogan of the liberal and the proclaimed objective of the political-minded in public office—has a strange and ironic sound today.

For in the biggest city of the nation, 20,000 human beings are forced out of work and tens of thousands of others are idle because of a shutdown of the newspapers. Millions of persons are deprived of their primary source of daily information.

Stores which depend on large advertisements to attract business during the Christmas season are being badly hurt in two cities—New York and Cleveland. Commercial losses run up to millions of dollars a day—all because of the stoppage of nine daily newspapers in New York and vicinity and of the daily papers in Cleveland.

Who is to blame? The answer is that human beings themselves are to blame. It's a kind of war. There's aggression and cruelty in it. Acquisitiveness is exulted. Extortion is openly condoned as employers are threatened with ruin unless union demands are met. The labor union's goal is to get what it demands, irrespective of whether the jobs of the strikers themselves become imperiled just as similar jobs have, indeed, been ended for all time in many cities in the country.

High production expenses—due chiefly to rising labor costs—have deprived four-fifths of the cities of the United States of a rival newspaper in the afternoon and morning fields. The principle that nobody could interfere with a free press in America has been repeatedly violated, and countless numbers of workers have paid the penalty of an irresponsible unionism.

IN NEW YORK CITY, for instance, the leaders of the 3,000 members of the International Typographical Union there have precipitated a strike. All the other unions—also composed of human beings with an obligation to judge their fellow men fairly—are schooled to be indifferent to the merits of the dispute by agreeing not to cross the picket lines of a striking union.

The employers are compelled to negotiate contract after contract with the individual unions—teamsters, news handlers, delivery men, reporters and others. Any one of the unions thus can bring about a tie-up of the whole plant.

Are the printers underpaid? Everyone naturally wants more wages. The newspaper publishers in New York City announced their willingness to pay $7,500 a year to their printers. The union demands more than $8,000 a year. The present salary is $7,330, apart from fringe benefits.

These are relatively big salary figures—and perhaps more than is being earned nowadays by many people in America with a daily output of much more physical energy. Granting that it is a desirable scale, is a war the only way to achieve such an objective? Do the employers hold out just because they are selfish? Or are they perhaps right when they say some of them will go bankrupt if they have to pay higher wages?

MANY NEWSPAPERS are known to be operating at a deficit. One of the bigger publishing companies in New York operates at a narrower margin of profit than most newspapers in other big cities. But the union insists on uniformity of wage scales. Wages must be the same for all newspapers in New York City, no matter what the financial condition of one or more of the publishing companies happens to be—that's the prevailing concept among the unions.

This is an inhumane attitude but union leaders don't feel that they are obliged to take into account the plight of the employer. If he goes out of business and workers are thrown out of their jobs, it is just too bad, say the leaders. Unfortunately, the major part of the unemployment in America today is directly or indirectly due to irresponsible drives of the labor unions themselves for higher pay. In some cases, they have forced automation that might never have come if there had been tolerable wage rises based on some formula that would have given both sides a chance to improve their positions gradually.

Labor should be paid progressively a better and better wage right along. But employers should have a chance to earn a fair profit.

Who will regulate all this—the government? The government is run by politicians, who know there are many more labor votes than employer votes. Government is one-sided.

SO THE ANSWER doesn't lie in letting the government handle the problem. The solution has to come from individual human beings as they learn something about self-restraint. Maybe if those preachers in New York City who talk so much politics in their pulpits would join with the worshippers in the pews and begin to pray for guidance, a solution might be found. Most human beings in America, when confronted with all the facts, are fair and can settle their differences without holding a gun at each other's heads.

Too many labor leaders go to extremes in their demands because they think it popularizes them with the members and gets them the votes to stay in power at big salaries. There are no better persons than the rank and file of American workers. Ellender's Service Merits Praise

By RAYMOND MOLEY

Before the one-world zealots go much further in denouncing Sen. Allen J. Ellender, the great services of this Louisianaian should be considered.

It seems that a number of comic-opera governments have closed the gates of their jungles against the senator. Their potentates say that he said that so far as he had been able to determine, they have made no progress toward self-government since they hoisted the flags of independence. And so, instead of welcoming him and showing evidence that he might be wrong, a number of them decided to keep him out.

Unnamed spokesmen in Washington have declared themselves to be "deeply disturbed." What they ought to be disturbed about is their own irresponsible action in ordering Michel Streulens, an official representative of Katanga, out of the United States.

They ought to be disturbed also by the unbelievable waste of American money in our aid to emergent and incompetent nations in Asia and Africa.

Perhaps such a judgment of the African states is a violation of the niceties of diplomacy. For despite their own doubts, diplomatic spokesmen must hail these dictatorships as wonderful examples of free institutions at work.

But Sen. Ellender is no diplomat. As a senator he conceives himself to be responsible for the money of American taxpayers. And over the years he has met that responsibility better than any of his colleagues.

HIS TIME and energy have been spent, whenever his duties in Washington have permitted, in visiting the countries of the world. His reports of what he has seen have been most illuminating and helpful to our taxpayers and to Congress.

Mr. Bell, our new distributor of aid, would profit by a study of the Ellender reports. This senator, well past the age of 65, has visited scores of countries, braving the perils of climate, food and disease in pursuit of his duty.

For example, on one of his visits to Korea he found that the alms-giver there had built certain flour mills.

When Ellender questioned this man, he found that the Koreans raised no wheat, and that he was urging them to export their rice and import wheat. This was in the interest of his theories about the Korean diet.

That Ellender's warning about such nonsense was ignored is now demonstrated by a recent two-volume report by Comptroller General Campbell. It shows that from 1957 to 1961 the United States spent $1.2 billion which Korea was too incompetent to use.

Poor planning and administration were quite general. Monumental waste and blunders were common. More than $250 million went into the importation of fertilizer.

TO SPEND this staggering sum, our mission had "one American and one Korean." The ICA admitted that it had little knowledge of needs and was unable to get from the Koreans any idea of how the money had been spent. Funds were used to import cotton and soybeans which Korea might well have raised within its own borders. Vast amounts spent for luxury items such as nylon and fine woollens not only were unnecessary but impeded Korea's development of its own industry.

Wholesale stealing of military supplies, gasoline, and automotive parts was common. Laxity of the Bank of Korea in the allocation of aid dollars "encouraged speculation and led to a number of irregularities, such as collusion between supplier and importer, shipment of defective merchandise, kickbacks and over-pricing."

A DREARY RECITAL of Korean practices, from chronic corruption to usurious interest rates, is included in the report.

These practices perpetuated heavy debt, low living standards and minimal purchasing power; yet it was found that the ICA had not familiarized itself with them.

But the millions of our dollars are still pouring in.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 17-year-old girl who is baffled by a problem. All the fellows in our crowd have cars. Some of the guys are careful drivers but most of them like to show off when they get behind the wheel.

I've been in cars with guys who have deliberately run red lights and gone through stop signs just to prove they aren't "chicken." One fellow likes to see how close he can come to another car when passing.

A boy with whom I used to go steady was a speed maniac and drove one of those revved-up jobs 100 miles an hour. He finally had a terrible accident. It was his girl friend, not he, who was scarred for life. When they pulled him out of the wreck the beer cans were still in the front seat.

What can a girl do when her date is a reckless driver? I hate to make a scene, but I don't want to be a statistic either.—NEED AN ANSWER.

Dear Need: Any girl who rides in a car with a show-off driver or with a fellow who is drinking is asking for serious trouble.

My advice is this: Get out of the car at the very first opportunity. Go to the nearest telephone and call your parents or the police and ask them to come and get you.

When the fellows learn you will not risk your neck with a smart alecky driver, they'll behave. Or—let them pile up with some other girl who had less sense than you.

Ditched By Doll

Dear Ann: I'm an idiot and I know it but if you will help me square things with my doll I'll behave from now on. I raise my right hand.

The other night I was driving home from a meeting and I spotted this cute chick waiting for a bus. I asked her if she wanted a lift and she said yes.

To make a long story short, she told me she was pretty good at the twist, so we ended up at a little out-of-the-way place for a few drinks and some dancing. That's all there was to it.

I was sure nobody saw us so I said nothing to my doll. But I was wrong. Somebody DID see us and she got the feedback the next day. That pickup was a spook and I'll never see her again. I know I did a dumb thing and I'm sorry. Please help me patch it up.—MAC THE KNIFE.

Dear Mac (pretty dull knife): Too bad your mother never taught you not to ride with strangers.

Wife is a series of decisions, Bub. Sometimes the wrong one can fix your clock permanently. I'll ask the doll to forgive you this time but if you steal any more customers from the bus company I hope she gives you the ax.

Deserted By Dad

Dear Ann: My dad, who is now 57 years of age, came to live with us two years ago when mother passed away. Our youngsters were very fond of him and he adored them.

Six months ago dad married a widow who has three young children. He is so wrapped up in his new family that he doesn't pay any attention to his own grandchildren any more. Of course we all feel hurt.

Why do people get nutty in their old age? Dad had everything a man could want when he lived with us and now he has tangled himself up with this widow and these kids of hers.

According to law, who is entitled to a man's estate—blood relatives (such as grandchildren) or stepchildren? Please answer in the paper so other old fools can see it.—TEAR-FILLED EYES.

Dear Girl: The dollar signs are glowing like neon lights in those tear-filled eyes of yours. If there is no will the laws of the state prevail. I wouldn't be a bit surprised if the stepchildren came in ahead of the grandchildren. (And incidentally, your sad story gets me right here, Toots.)

The jar is never empty and Mrs. Berns has a standing order at Schrafft's for five pounds of lollipops every month.

With such a big demand, lollipops are getting more and more decorative and come in just about any flavor you can think of. They are often used to decorate birthday cakes, and they even make an instant lollipop set and a do-it-yourself tree.

Every year they grow bigger and bigger, either as Halloween witches and goblins or monster Christmas trees and chocolate coated Santa Clauses which are always useful for the top of Christmas stockings.

You may ask "Does a lollipop hurt my child's teeth?" The answer is "Yes," but not as much as chewing gum.

Most children's hospitals would

Why can't people be more considerate? There wasn't a mark or dent on our '62 car until some inconsiderate person banged the side of the right door and fender Saturday night while we were down town shopping.

Whoever caused the damage did not have the decency to leave a note of apology. I classify this type of driver with ordinary vandals.

Who will regulate all this—the government? The government is run by politicians, who know there are many more labor votes than employer votes. Government is one-sided.

SO THE ANSWER doesn't lie in letting the government handle the problem. The solution has to come from individual human beings as they learn something about self-restraint. Maybe if those preachers in New York City who talk so much politics in their pulpits would join with the worshippers in the pews and begin to pray for guidance, a solution might be found. Most human beings in America, when confronted with all the facts, are fair and can settle their differences without holding a gun at each other's heads.

Too many labor leaders go to extremes in their demands because they think it popularizes them with the members and gets them the votes to stay in power at big salaries. There are no better persons than the rank and file of American workers. It should be their task to convert their leaders to the simple precepts of mutual restraint and a tolerance of the other fellow's problems as he tries hard to operate a business at a profit so as to earn a return on other people's money invested in his business, and at the same time provide jobs for the workers.

These are relatively big salary figures—and perhaps more than is being earned nowadays by many people in America with a daily output of much more physical energy. Granting that it is a desirable scale, is a war

Health Questions, Answers

Q—I have very dry skin, especially on my hands. What kind of vitamin can I take to make my skin softer? I have tried all kinds of creams but none of them have helped.

A—Dry skin is caused by a decreased activity of the glands in the skin that produce sweat and oil but what causes the decrease is anybody's guess. The condition is usually worse in cold, dry weather and in winter. Dr. Brandstadt says the most severe form it makes the skin look scaly. Soap and fat solvents of all kinds make it worse. Some of the non-alkaline modern detergents should be used in place of soap.

Vitamin A, best supplied by eating carrots, green vegetables, sweet potatoes, Hubbard squash and apricots, may be of some benefit but don't expect miracles. Most people who have a dry skin have it all their lives and are not greatly handicapped by it.

Even though you have used creams without much benefit you should continue to use them. Be sure the creams you use have an oily base and are not the greaseless vanishing creams preferred by most women.

One woman writes that she feels sensitive about being a dark complexioned. She had read that there is a medicine that will make dark complexion lighter.

Another woman writes that she gets a deep irregular pigmentation on her face and neck whenever she spends a short time in the sun. The only thing that fades it is monobenzene (Benquin). She asks whether this could be caused by hair dye.

So far as I know monobenzene is the only bleaching agent available for dark skin. Unfortunately it does not produce a uniform controllable bleaching of the areas of the skin to which it is applied. In some persons who have used it, it even produces irregular bleaching with scattered spots of increased pigmentation so use it at your own risk.

Hair dyes are not known to produce any areas of dark pigmentation on the skin.

Q—What is the treatment of fungus in the fingernails and toenails?

A—Because the nail itself protects the fungus that causes the trouble against local applications of any fungicide, local treatment is rarely successful although it may help.

When the prescribed treatment fails, it is often because an exact diagnosis was not made. This can be done only by taking scrapings from the infected area, examining them under a microscope, and identifying the type of fungus involved.

Some fungi can be killed by taking tablets of the antibiotic, griseofulvin, if the treatment is persisted in for four or five months. Unfortunately, a few persons suffer undesirable side effects from this drug but it is well worth a try.

Other fungi can be killed by another antibiotic, nystatin, which can also be taken by mouth. A doctor who specializes in skin diseases should be able to help you.

Mt Nebo Has Program

Twenty-nine persons attended the meeting of Mt. Nebo Grange Wednesday evening at the grange hall, with Master Charles L. Morlan presiding.

The group donated to an appeal for aid and to the Retarded Children's Christmas fund. They also gave food and clothing to two families whose homes burned down recently.

A Christmas program was presented by lecturer Mrs. Guy Frantz. It included a film "How Christmas Carols Originated" shown by Ernest Tullis, and readings, "Let's Go Neighboring" written by Mrs. Ivan Harrods, and "First Christmas Stamp" by Mrs. Harold Wilhelm.

Mrs. Allen Bloor and Miss Carol Shade presented a group of children in group singing. Members of the group were Linda Rockwell, Claudia Henry, Thomas Jones, Richard Bloor, John Bloor, Marsha Ferguson and David Wade Ferguson.

A poem, "Peace," was presented by Allen Bloor, two accordion solos by David Ferguson and a tabloid on the manger scene by Mr. and Mrs. Morlan.

Treats were distributed and lunch was served by the social committee.

Installation of Officers Held By Salem Garden Study Club

Mrs. Ned Massa, outgoing president, installed 1963 officers when the Salem Garden Study Club met Tuesday at the Salem Golf Club for its annual Christmas dinner party.

The candlelight ceremony was conducted in the presence of 19 members in a dining room decorated with the traditional red and green. The U-shaped table had three centerpieces with bright carnations among yule greens with snow-laden branches. On either side of the flowers were two large red Capri candles.

Installed were the following officers: Mrs. Martin Lutsch, Jr., president Mrs. Albert Catlos, first vice president Mrs. Louis Ospeck, second vice president Mrs. Frank Mason, third vice president Mrs. George Peterson, treasurer Mrs. William Lowry, assistant secretary-treasurer and Mrs. Joseph Hurray, delegate to federation.

Hints From Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise: May I suggest that when housewives buy appliances, they read "Joe Blow's" instructions and guarantees?

Warranties and guarantees vary. Read the warranty not just once, but twice, before purchasing an item. This usually comes from the manufacturer himself. One might get a 90 day guarantee but the warranty might last up to five years!

When buying a refrigerator or an air conditioner, ask for a warranty. Most manufacturers give this freely.

This may not sound like good advice but it really is. That housewife (4 1/2 years from now) might have her refrigerator go on the "konk". When she has to pay money out of her budget to have a new sealed refrigerant unit put in, she will see that it pays to read her warranties.

My husband was in this business 32 years. Now that he is retired I can reveal this... Glad he has no competition today.

DEALER'S WIFE.

DEAR HELOISE: Can anyone tell us how to remove ballpoint pen ink from a leather purse? I am at my wit's end.

ANNE.

Has anyone ever been able to remove ballpoint pen ink from a genuine leather purse? Or tions, and best of all the foam rubber doesn't even show.

JOAN GRIMMA.

DEAR HELOISE: When I restring my beads, I lay them out on a terry cloth towel. They do not roll away and are easier to string when this method is used.

Also, don't use a needle. Try nail polish on the end of your thread! It works fine.

ESTELLE.

DEAR HELOISE: To shorten my slips which are too long... I sew a tuck on the right side of the slip just above the trim at the hem.

Too, when longer dresses do come back into style all one has to do is rip out this little row of stitching and the slip will be lengthened again.

CAROLINE R. BLEBINS.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's a hint I have used for years: Take three plastic bags—even those with the round holes in them — and put them in your sewing machine drawer.

AGNES JOSEPH.

Put all the bias tape in one, seam binding in one, and elastic in another. It really helps to keep things orderly.

MRS. MARY HOLEY.

DEAR HELOISE: The perfect "rest" for my portable mixer while mixing cookies or a cake is my carton of salt! Try it. It's wonderful!

BARBARA FOUTS.

DEAR HELOISE: When making roasts, instead of putting your slice of onion over it, take about half of a medium onion and put it in your blender with about a cup of water. This will make a good onion juice that you can pour over the meat, and this makes wonderful gravy, also.

I blend a couple of cloves of garlic the same way for my pork roasts. This not only adds a good flavor all through the meat but it is wonderful when you have someone who objects to the onion or garlic. They never see it! You can add more water as you need it.

Campaign Report Filed by Sargus

State Sen. Edmund A. Sargus of St. Clairsville spent $543 in his personal campaign for re-election, he said in a sworn statement of expenditures filed Thursday afternoon with the County Election Board in East Liverpool.

Sen. Sargus, a Democrat, reported contributions of $90.

Earlier yesterday, the Sargus for Senator Committee reported expenditures of $500 when it filed a separate report.

The East Liverpool Citizens Committee for better schools reported expenditures of $484 in a campaign in support of two levies. Both were approved.

Meanwhile, Frank R. O'Hanlon, election board clerk, reminded today that Dec. 21 at 4 p.m. is the deadline for the reports.

They are required under the Corrupt Practices Act, which puts a ceiling on campaign spending. Law says the reports must be filed by all candidates, whether or not they are successful, and by individuals and groups which supported or opposed any candidate or issue.

O'Hanlon said virtually all successful candidates have filed the statements. The board is not permitted to issue a certificate of election until the report is filed.

Bill Schofield, former Salem musician and a "gentle warrior of the Lord", was one of three Salvation Army workers featured on the cover of the Dec. 15 issue of Saturday Evening Post.

The 22-year-old youth is also pictured twice inside in the article, "An Army of Gentle Warriors," which tells the story of the good works of the Salvation Army.

Schofield, who was a star musician in elementary grades in Salem, is depicted on the cover playing a Flugelhorn, a type of alto cornet invented by the German, Flugel, and used in brass bands, particularly in Europe.

Howard Pardee, Salem school instrumental music teacher, remembers Schofield, a cornetist, as a "terrific musician" who was one of the few pupils given the honor of soloing at high school band concerts while he was in 8th and 6th grades.

Schofield comes from a long line of musicians including his grandfather, the late English-born Fred Miffin, who became band director of the East Liverpool SA band for five years, and his father, Major Clifford Schofield, an expert trombonist. His mother is also an accomplished pianist.

Young Schofield is now working on his master's degree in social science at New York University and is a staff bandsman in that city's Salvation Army musical unit.

His parents are now operating "The Anthony" in New York City, a Salvation Army-sponsored hotel for working girls far from home. His grandmother, Mrs. Ethel Miffin, still resides in East Liverpool.

LADIES AUXILIARY of the Eagles will have a coverdinner and Christmas party at 5 p.m. Sunday in the Lodge Hall. There will be a 50 cent gift exchange and a 50 cent donation to the Mental Health Fund.

McCullion Challenges Election of Grose

COLUMBUS, Ohio AP — Democrat Michael J. McCullion of Youngstown has filed a challenge in the Ohio Supreme Court to the election of James H. Grose, Hubbard Republican, as state senator in the 23rd District embracing Mahoning and part of Trumbull County.

McCullion claimed the election of Grose was void on grounds that absentee ballots were not applied for properly as some were issued without being requested and that several voters marked ballots illegally.

Mariner 2

a National Aeronautics and Space Administration news conference here.

The U.S. Information Agency, plans to send reports on Mariner's progress to 107 posts around the globe in 38 languages. Later there will be a documentary film of Mariner's progress for world-wide theatrical showings.

Mariner's journey got off to a bumpy start: Due to a somewhat faulty performance of the 10-story high Atlas-Agena B complex that launched her, she began her trip on a greatly off-target course.

That error was soon substantially corrected. Since then, though, Mariner has been beset by various other temporary troubles—some of them still a mystery.

While scientists expect to get a check on the condition of the spacecraft itself, they say it will be "at least weeks and possibly months" before they'll be able to say what Mariner actually found out about Venus.

exchange voice and teletype tests, with the Brazilian station also passing along these tests to the Italian station.

The Saturday schedule calls for news stories to be exchanged between the United States and Europe. Similar transmissions are planned Monday between the United States and South America.

If all goes well, the public will witness an intercontinental Christmas program Wednesday television through Relay. The program, carried by all three U.S. television networks, will feature yuletide preparations in 11 nations on the North American and European continents.

Relay is kin to Telstar, the orbiting switchboard which went dead in late November after four highly successful months of transmitting television pictures, radio and telephone conversations between the United States and Europe. But its parentage is different.

Telstar was privately built and financed by American Telephone and Telegraph Co. Relay was a NASA satellite, built under government contract by Radio Corporation of America.

Mr. Shnoo's Zoo Christmas Story

By Lucrece Beale

(Chapter 11)
HENRIETTA FALLS OVER
Mr. Shnoo sniffed and all the attendants sniffed. Never in this world had they smelled so sweet a smell.
"What is it?" Mr. Shnoo asked. "What have you made?"
"Tropical incense," said Santa, watching the smoke drift from the pan. "It's a secret I learned from a fairy queen who rules the island where birds go when they die."
"It is magic!" cried Mr. Shnoo. "See what is happening!"
Truly, it was a sight to see and a sound to hear. The birds had left their nests and were darting about the cage. The songs they sang had never been so clear and lively. Even Herbert and Louise, the giraffes, were affected by it all. They swung their long necks and strange humming sounds came from their throats.
Above all the turmoil there came a sudden cheerful "peep!" and there was Blue Lady perched on Mr. Shnoo's shoulder.
"HAPPY DAY!" said Blue Lady, flicking her tail.
"Happy day, indeed!" agreed Mr. Shnoo. "Ah," he said, turning to Santa, "If only I had the recipe for your incense!"
"No need," said Santa. "For now I believe your birds will live forever."
Mr. Shnoo was overcome. "Because of you," said he, "Shnoo's Zoo now has flying reindeer, a bear with dinosaur teeth, and birds that will never die! What a sight for the Queen!"

"It's a secret I learned from a fairy queen."

Santa wrapped his long wool scarf around his neck. "I hope she comes soon," he said. "For bad luck seems to plague you."
"Don't worry," said Mr. Shnoo. "I am sure our bad luck is over."
"Perhaps," said Santa. "Anyway, you know how to reach me should the need arise." With that he was out of the door and gone before Mr. Shnoo could blink his eyes.
Mr. Shnoo was wrong. His bad luck was not over. The next day trouble came to the big animal house when Henrietta, the elephant, fell over on her side and could not get up again.

It happened this way:
EVERY NIGHT Henrietta was tied to a stake on the right side of her cage and it was her custom to lean against the big stone wall on her right while she slept. The night before she was tied to the left side of her cage. When she dozed off she leaned over to the right as was her custom but the wall was not there and poor Henrietta went plopp! right over on her side.
Now an elephant can lie down by first bending his front legs under him and then kneeling down on his back legs. When he is down like this he can get back up very easily. But when an elephant is lying on his side, all four legs stick straight out and no matter how much he tries he cannot get back up on them.
This is the way Henrietta was found and Mr. Shnoo was very angry.
"Who staked her against the left wall?" he demanded.
The elephant attendant swore it had not been his fault. "She was staked on the right side. I saw it myself!"
"Who else was about?"
"No one. Except Crookshank who's always around."
Crookshank declared he'd had nothing to do with the matter and Mr. Shnoo said anyway, the thing to do now was to get Henrietta back on her feet. He called in all the men in the zoo and they all got behind Henrietta and pushed and pushed and pushed but they could not budge her.

MR. SHNOO had the men put a pulley at the top of the cage. He wrapped canvas around Henrietta's middle and tied it with ropes through the pulley. Then the men pulled on the ropes. Henrietta was raised two inches but, try as they would, the men could lift her no higher.

Poor Henrietta kicked her legs feebly and snorted unhappily through her trunk. She looked at Mr. Shnoo as if to say, "Hurry! I can't stay this way much longer!"
"Don't worry," said Mr. Shnoo gently. "We'll get you up." But how they were to do it, he did not know.
Tomorrow: Skating Henrietta!

Salem Cagers Will Face Timken At Canton Saturday

Parma Contest Is Canceled

Trojans Are Small But Have 2-0 Mark

Instead of playing the biggest basketball team it may have faced all season, Parma, Salem will travel to battle one of the smallest squads it will encounter, Timken, at Canton Field House Saturday at 7:15 p.m.

Parma Valley Forge has closed its school until Monday and the contest with Salem has been canceled. The Patriots could not find an opening on their schedule for future playing date with the Quakers.

Salem Coach John Cabas said, "Timken has a better team than Parma. Parma is big and slow, while Timken is extremely fast and has two excellent outside shooters."

THE TROJANS have posted two straight victories over Dayton Kiser 46-31 and Western Reserve Academy 61-49.

Canton Timken's tallest man will not start, but Carl Roth, 6-4 junior center, will probably get into the action early.

Timken Coach Fred Harold plans to start three seniors and two juniors, Gary Lyons, 5-10, and Ben Roby, 5-10, are set at the forward posts; James Turner, 6-0, gets the nod at center; and the guards spots will be filled by Joe Souliere, 5-9½, and Harry Robinson, 5-6.

Despite its size Timken can rebound with the best. The Trojans will fight for position and get their share off the backboards.

Lyons and Souliere are the fine outside shooters. Against Kiser, Souliere collected 18 points and Lyons chalked up 14.

COACH CABAS will probably start Bill Berry, 6-3, Bob King, 6-5, Richard Platt, 5-9, Richard Sweitzer, 6-0, and Marlin Waller 6-1.

Salem will be seeking its first victory of the campaign after dropping the home opener to Columbus East 75-49.

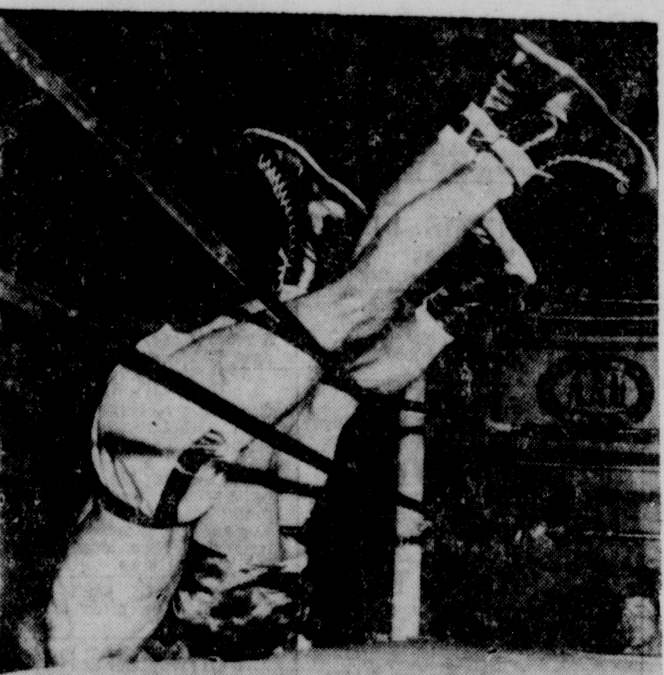

During that clash the Quakers displayed the first brand of basketball that is traditional with Salem teams.

The Tigers possessed an all veteran unit that appeared to be at midseason form or better. Salem made a fine early showing, holding the classy Tigers down to a 20-17 first period margin.

WITH A FEW games of experience under its belt, Salem will hold its own with any basketball team on its card, Cabas believes.

Three of the Salem players finished in double figures against the Tigers. Berry had 13 points, Sweitzer, 12 and King, 11.

The Salem-Timken clash is part of a twin bill slated at the Field House. In the second tilt, Canton McKinley goes against Niles in an Ohio Big 8 Conference fray.

GOING OUT TOGETHER — Fighting was fast and furious between Dave Watkins, 156, Phoenix, the fellow on top, and Paul Gallegos, 152, Chandler, Ariz., in their Golden Gloves novice division fight in Phoenix, Ariz. After this encounter with the ropes, the two returned to the ring to finish the bout. Watkins won a unanimous decision.

Nation's Football Attendance Is Up

OSU Draws Top Grid Crowds Again; 497,644 See Bucks

NEW YORK (AP) — Perennial champion Ohio State maintained its position as the biggest attraction in college football during the 1962 season but honors for the biggest proportionate gain went to the Mississippi College Choctaws.

The Buckeyes of the Big Ten Conference, who lost an average of one fan per game in 1962, finished on top by clicking 497,644 fans through the turnstiles in six games—an average of 82,941. In 1961, Ohio State drew 414,712 in five games for an average of 82,942.

The Choctaws of Clinton, Miss., quadrupled their average 1962 attendance. The boost from 3,625 a

Dayton U. Seeks New Grid Coach

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The University of Dayton is in the market for a new football coach. School officials announced Thursday they are not renewing the contract of Stan Zajdel, whose present agreement expires Dec. 31.

Zajdel, 35, has been at Dayton since 1955 and head coach for the past three seasons. In that time his teams have won 5 games and lost 25.

There was no indication when a successor would be named, but two candidates for the job have been mentioned—Chuck Noll, former Dayton and Cleveland Brown star who is now an assistant coach of the San Diego Chargers of the American Football League, and Paul Miller, who has built an enviable record coaching at Louisville Flaget High School.

Niagara Rally Trims Dayton

Former East Tech Star Glenn Gets 26

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A former All-Ohio high school basketball star at Cleveland East Tech came back Thursday night to help his new teammates at Niagara snap the state's longest college winning streak.

The returnee was Ken Glenn and the winning-streak, 14, was Dayton's.

Glenn scored 26 points and grabbed 14 rebounds as the unbeaten Purple Eagles posted their fourth victory, 75-67, of the campaign. However, it was an uphill fight all the way.

The Flyers jumped into an 18-6 lead as Niagara failed to score a field goal in the first 7½ minutes. The Eagles got the lead for good with 2:07 left, 62-61, and then used Dayton fouls to pull away.

The game was the highlight of the night's five-game Ohio cage schedule.

In other games, Richmond (Va.) scored nine straight points in the second half to send it on to a 70-56 triumph over Baldwin - Wallace; Capital won its first Ohio Conference game in three tries by defeating Denison 81-70; Cedarville came from behind to whip Rio Grande 75-62, and Central State climbed over the .500 mark in defeating Fisk of Tennessee 92-70.

Baldwin-Wallace, in losing at Richmond, had an individual career scoring record set. Bob Walters tallied 21 points to boost his four-year total to 1,398.

Capital and Denison put on a sharp - shooting display in their tussle at Columbus. Cap wound up hitting 55 per cent from the field and Denison, which had a 52 per cent mark in the first half, wound up with 45 per cent from the floor.

Rio Grande had Ohio's top scorer Thursday night as Dick Myrick netted 32 points in his team's losing effort.

Central State trailed only once in its victory over Fisk.

Eddie Machen KO's Hospital Attendants

NAPA, Calif. (AP) — Manager Sid Flaherty was expected to visit his heavyweight challenger, Eddie Machen, today in the Napa State Hospital here.

Flaherty told hospital authorities over the telephone he was flying in from Montana and possibly might not arrive until Saturday, however.

Machen was discovered Wednesday night sitting in his car with a revolver and a suicide note. He told a highway patrolman he had fired three shots into a mudbank. Contents of the note were not revealed.

Machen came calmly to the hospital. But later Wednesday night he knocked out two attendants before he was overcome and placed under heavy sedation.

"I don't know whether he was trying to escape or what," said Dr. Theodore K. Miller, superintendent and medical director at Napa. "He's disturbed, upset. We are taking care of his acute symptoms first."

Sosbe's, Paster's Are Awarded Forfeits

Sosbe's and Paster's were awarded forfeits in the City Slo-Break Basketball League at the Memorial Building Thursday night.

The forfeits left Sosbe's with a 3-0 record and Paster's is now 2-1.

Browns Plan Workout For 49ers Game

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Cleveland Browns, their practice schedule thrown off by Cleveland's big snowstorm, were to hold a much needed workout today in preparation for their final game Saturday with San Francisco.

The outcome will determine whether the Browns have a winning or losing season in the National Football League.

Cleveland, third in the Eastern Conference with a 6-6-1 record, must win the nationally-televised contest to finish over the .500 mark. The only time the Browns fell below that figure was in 1956, when they ended up with a 5-7 record.

The 49ers are in fourth place in the Western Conference with a 6-7-0 record.

The Browns arrived here late Thursday on a plane they had boarded in Chicago. Stormy weather in Cleveland forced the Browns to take an overnight train to Chicago late Wednesday night.

Boston Whips Detroit 103-93 In NBA Game

Havlicek Sparks Celtics To Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Big John Havlicek, student, team leader, former ace Ohio schoolboy quarterback and basketball player, spent four years in the shadow of Jerry Lucas at Ohio State.

Now he's casting a bit of a shadow himself while making a strong early challenge for rookie of the year honors in the National Basketball Association. And typical of Havlicek, he's starting at the top—with the NBA champion Boston Celtics.

The ex-Ohio State ace, finally recognized last year for a career of all-around skill with the Buckeyes, scored only 12 points in Boston's 103-93 victory over Detroit at Providence Thursday night. But it was his fast-breaking, along with Tom Heinsohn, that broke open the game in the third period after the Celts had struggled to stay even with the Pistons for more than half the game.

Heinsohn wound up with 26 points in the victory that increased Boston's Eastern Division lead to four games over second place Syracuse.

In the only other game scheduled, Cincinnati crept to within two games of Syracuse with a 142-123 whipping of Chicago that snapped a five-game losing streak.

Jordan Is Picked Lineman of Year

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—Lee Roy Jordan Thursday was named lineman of the year in The Associated Press poll of sports writers and broadcasters.

The Alabama offensive center-defensive linebacker received nearly one-third of the votes cast and was pressed only by Minnesota's gigantic tackle Bobby Bell for the honor. Jordan polled 40 votes, Bell 28 of the 125 ballots.

Steel Bowl Cage Tourney Starts At Pitt Tonight

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

This is the time of year the local electric company gets a shock.

For the next two weeks almost the only lights on in town may be at the college gym, where the roundball experts will indulge in that annual winter wonder known as the holiday basketball tournament.

The major college cagers get underway tonight in the Steel Bowl at Pittsburgh, where Duquesne meets Boston College and William and Mary goes against Pitt, and in the Knights of Columbus Tournament at Portland, where Tennessee State takes on University of Pacific and Los Angeles Loyola plays Portland.

While those teams were standing in the wings, Notre Dame, Miami of Florida and Niagara—three clubs trying to wing into the nation's top ten—joined second-ranked Duke to bolster their prestige with convincing victories Thursday night.

The Irish won their sixth in succession by crushing Creighton 74-48, Miami remained unbeaten in five by belting Florida Southern 116-93, Niagara snapped Dayton's 14-game winning streak with a 75-67 triumph and Duke beat Clemson 92-67 in an Atlantic Coast Conference clash.

Notre Dame, which had been getting 20-point performances from some heralded sophs, turned to senior John Andreoli against Creighton. Andreoli scored 20 points, pulling the Irish into a 33-21 halftime lead as he led a 16-3 burst that sent the Bluejays reeling.

Niagara failed to score a basket in the first 7½ minutes, fell behind 18-6, cut the deficit to 39-30 at halftime and finally pulled ahead of Dayton for keeps with just over 2 minutes left when Bill Kennedy sank a basket for a 62-61 lead.

Duke won its fifth in a row and third straight in the ACC as Art

Heyman led the Blue Devils' three-pronged attack with 30 points.

Packers Battle Rams Sunday; Oilers Meet Titans

49ers Favored Over Browns In Saturday's TV Contest

By JACK CLARY

NEW YORK (AP) — The San Francisco 49ers and Cleveland Browns meet Saturday afternoon in San Francisco in a National Football League game that will have no bearing on any race, but which will be for the public's entertainment over national television (CBS, 1:30 p.m., PST).

Sunday, though, the Green Bay Packers, 12-1, play the Los Angeles Rams in Los Angeles, needing only a victory or tie to sew up their third straight Western Conference crown and get a second straight title game date against the New York Giants.

In the American League, Houston can nail down its third straight Eastern title Saturday in New York against the Titans. If the Oilers lose, they still could back in if the Oakland Raiders, losers of 19 straight, upset or tie the second-place Boston Patriots in Oakland.

This week's final picks:

NFL
San Francisco over Cleveland—49ers flying quarterback formation should be good for one more game.

St. Louis over Philadelphia—Cardinals awakened last week with big 52-20 win over Dallas and have easier foe in Eagles. Baltimore over Minnesota—Colts need victory to finish at .500 but it will be an offensive battle with Johnny Unitas pitting passes against Fran Tarkenton of Vikings.

Pittsburgh over Washington—Steelers just too strong again for Redskins, are worn out and battered after surprise showing this year. Lou Michaels' toe may decide for Pittsburgh.

New York over Dallas—Giants will get a good test from Cowboys' big offense, but Ralph Guglielmi showed Eastern champions have little to worry about when Y.A. Tittle isn't running the club. Chicago over Detroit—Lions will be playing for their lives but Bears are a sound ball club with Billy Wade in groove as passer.

Green Bay over Los Angeles—No chance of an upset for the business-like Packers who will shoot the works to nail down Western title.

AFL
Houston over New York—Oilers old pros take no chances of missing title as George Blanda and Charlie Tolar too much for tired Titans.

Oakland over Boston—Raiders get edge on Pats with desire to win at least once during season. Boston may be down if game doesn't decide title chances.

Dallas over San Diego—Texans Len Dawson, Abner Haynes and Co., get a good test before title game.

Myers Is Chosen Most Spectacular Football Player

NEW YORK (AP) — The one-man gang displays of three sophomores and a much-honored senior comprised the most spectacular individual performances in collegiate football for 1962.

According to sports writers and sportscasters taking part in the annual year-end Associated Press poll, the "most spectacular" performers were quarterbacks — Sophomore Tommy (Gun) Myers of Northwestern, gimpy Craig Morton of California and Gary Wood of Cornell, and — who else? — poised Terry Baker, the Oregon State All-America recently named Heisman and Maxwell Trophy winner and AP Back of the Year.

There were so many top performances, the pollsters decided, there could be no clear-cut winner.

Myers in his first varsity game, against South Carolina, completed 15 straight passes and wound up with 20 completions in 24 attempts in Northwestern's 37-20 victory. In a 34-22 triumph over Minnesota, he fired three fourth-quarter TD passes. Behind Myers pinpoint pitching, Northwestern overcame a 14-0 first-period deficit and went on to defeat Ohio State 18-14.

Wood was virtually a one-man show as Cornell edged Princeton 35-34, completing 13 of 16 passes for 212 yards and three touchdowns and carrying 15 times for 125 yards and two TDs.

Morton made his first appearance in California's sixth game of the season, against Penn State, recovering from a knee operation. Although his team lost 23-21, Morton completed 20 passes in 28 attempts, three for touchdowns, and gained 274 yards.

Baker was phenomenal in Oregon State's 39-35 victory over Iowa State. He passed and rushed for 317 yards, throwing for three touchdowns and scoring three others.

A word from THERON at the Country Store

A lady came in and said some people do not like my articles on shoplifters. I am sure they can't dislike them any more than I do shoplifting when I know if we didn't have it we could give our honest customers even more low prices and a better store.

You see almost all my customers are fine and honest people, the thoughts of anything like shoplifting is almost as far from their minds as the moon.

The total amount that shoplifters get each year makes bank robbers take look like peanuts.
